

After waking up Dea sits and sees all in darkness

Dea turns and sees a light glowing inside the bathroom

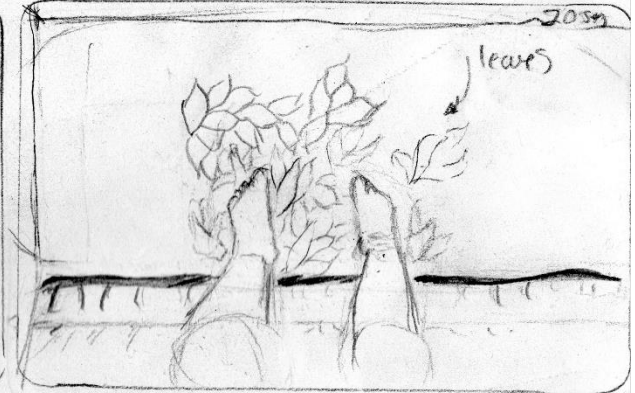

After walking towards the door, she opens it and the light stops glowing, making all come into complete darkness

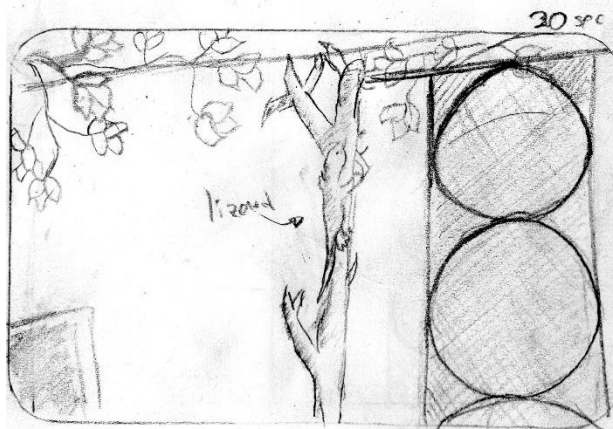

Dea wakes up again and removes the sweat from her forehead

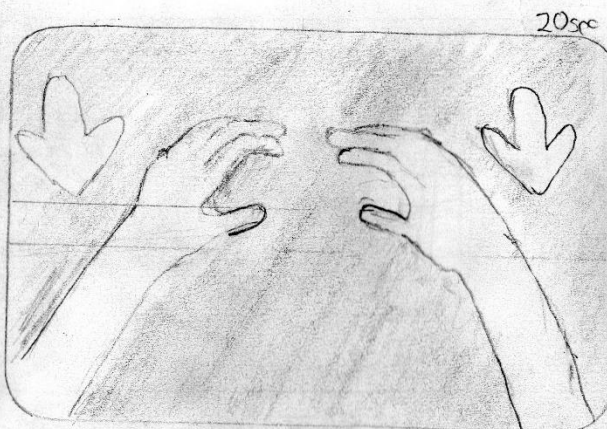

Dea sits up and hugs her belly because of a slight pain of loneliness

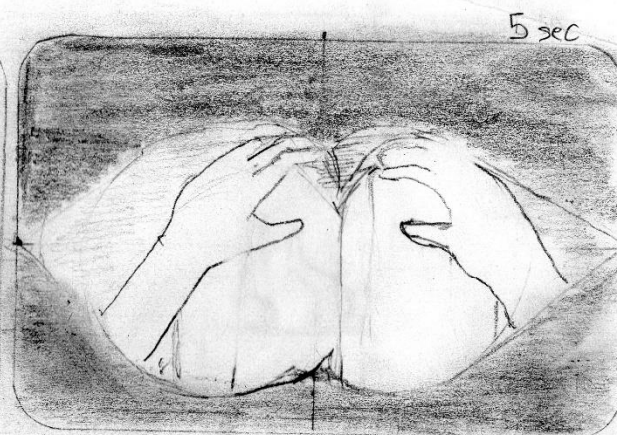

Dea put her foot on the floor breaking the leaves that are there

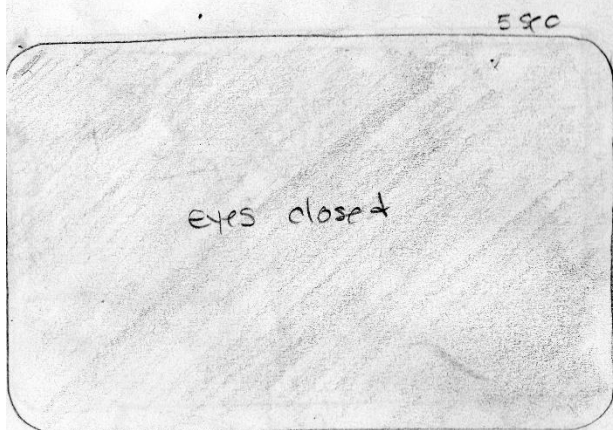

Dea is seeing a lizard walking beside the door while opening the door

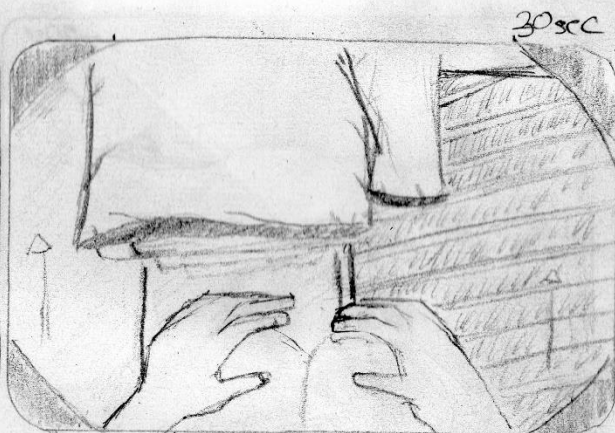

Dea is falling into darkness after walking inside the floorless room

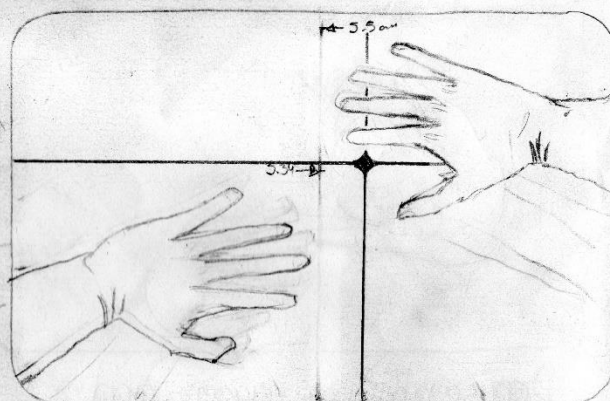

Dea hugs her knees and closes her eyes, while the speed sound intensifies

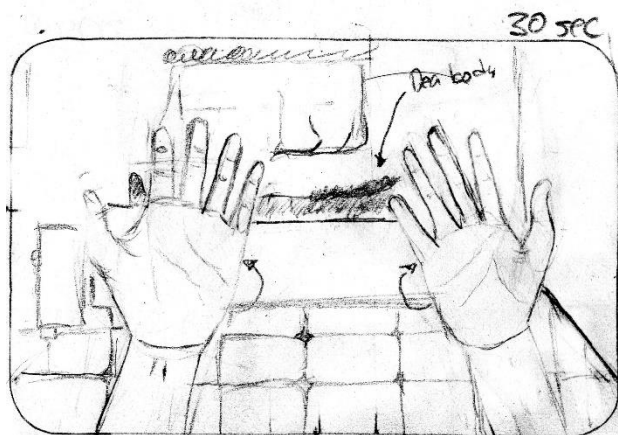

Everything is quite, we can't see anything

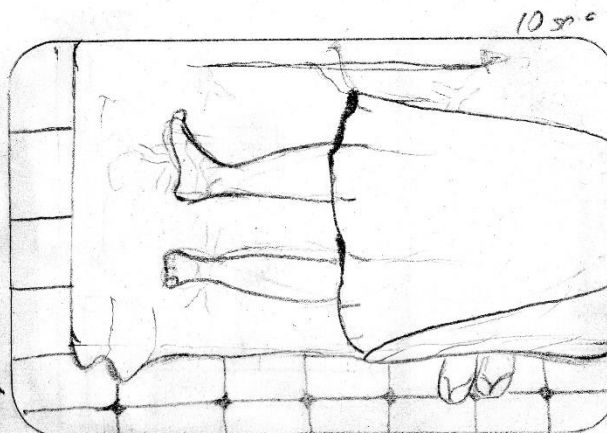

Dea opens her eyes and found herself inside her closet

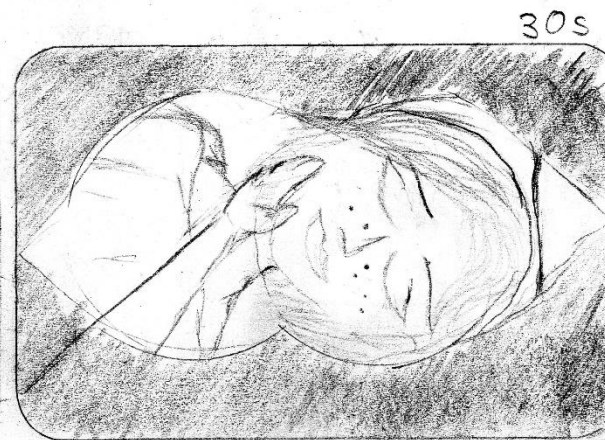

Dea crawls after opening the closet door

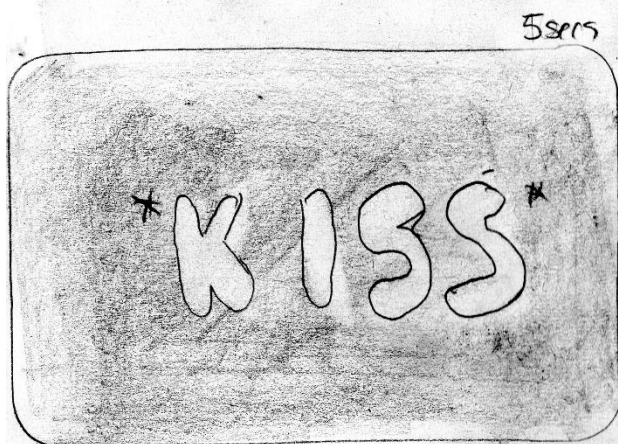

Dea sees her hands and between them she sees a body lying on her bed

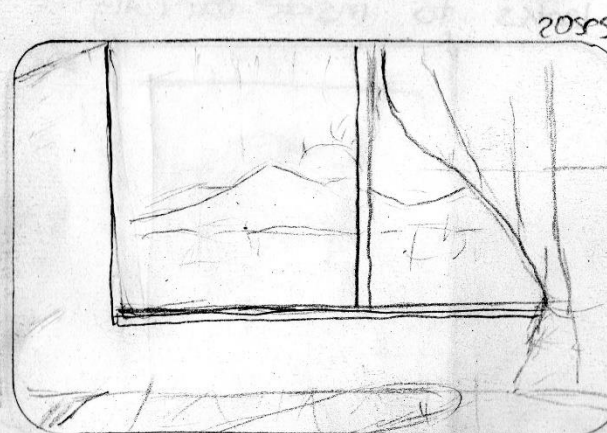

Dea looks at her (not her) legs

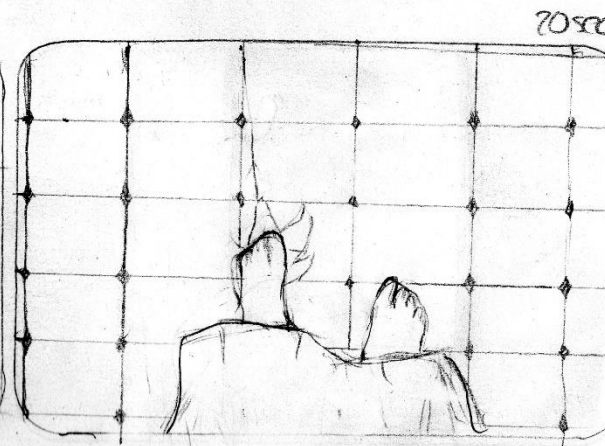

After admiring her face, she touches her cheek, and get close to kiss herself

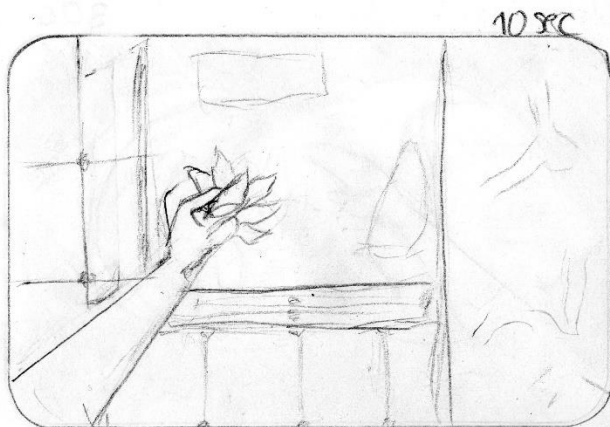

With her closed eyes we only hear a kiss

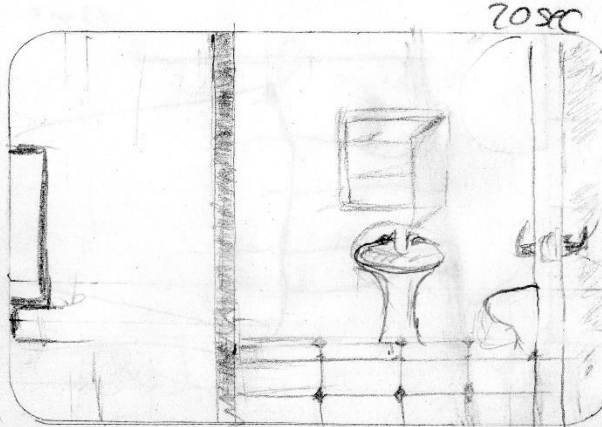

Dea, after waking up, looks at the window. A new day rises

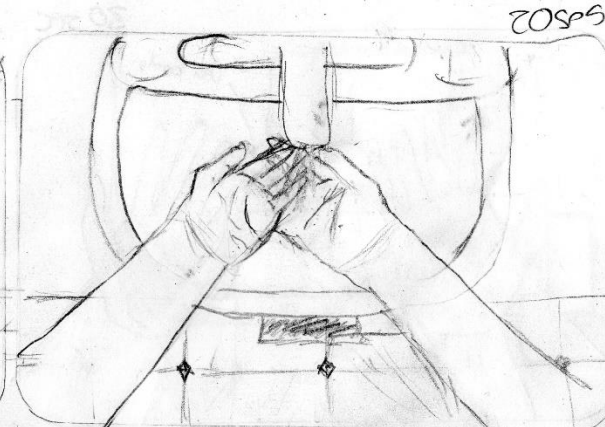

After jumping out of bed Dea breaks a single leaf in the floor

Dea leaves the leaf in a furniture

After walking to the bathroom and opening the door. Dea jumps back, not knowing why she looks to inside carefully

Dea puts water in her hands to wash her face

Dea, after she stops washing her face, she stands up and starts to close the cabinet above her she closes the mirror sees her self and smile.
